INTERVIEW SUMMARY

The following voicemail message was left with the Applicant's undersigned representative on January 30, 2008, at 11:45 pm:

"Mr. Jordan this is Examiner Luu from the U.S. Patent Office. I'm calling you regarding serial number 10/734,511, that's 10/734,511. This is the case that a Notice Of Allowance was already sent out in November however there were some problems with the claims 18 and 22. Basically they were not included in the set of allowable claims, at least on the Notice Of Allowance. So a correction has been made for that actually on our part and it's not so much with a Supplemental Allowance, but basically because this is actually considered on the minor side of it, we just have to do a printer rush on our side to fix the forms so that the case can be moved forward. And so the corrections have been made to the forms that basically then will include claims 18 and 22. And so all of the necessary documents have been submitted by tomorrow morning, and so you should be receiving some kind of replacement of the incorrect forms that you see on the PAIR once they make the changes. Any more questions on this please give me a call at 571-272-4064."

In the absence of further correspondence from the Examiner, the Applicants will understand this message to serve as a formal acknowledgement that claims 18 and 22 were inadvertently omitted from the set of allowable claims indicated on the Notice Of Allowability dated November 27, 2007, and that these inadvertently omitted claims are in fact fully allowable.
